Introduction
This report summarises the outcome of IFACCA’s twenty-ninth D’Art question, which was initiated by the National Association for the Visual Arts (NAVA), Australia. The question, which was distributed on 21 November 2006, is reproduced in appendix 3.

The aim of the D’Art was to assist in locating organisations similar to NAVA in other countries, ie: non-government organisations with a focus on policy development (eg taxation, copyright, government priorities and programs) and service provision (eg information, advice, research and publication of ‘best practice’ manuals) for visual artists and craftspeople and the industries they operate in. NAVA believes there would be real value in generating opportunities for dialogue with its sister organisations around the world, for the same reasons this type of international sharing is valuable for the members of IFACCA. The Association is therefore considering creating an international network of organisations that represent the professional interests of the visual arts and craft/design sector to collaborate on:

• regularly sharing information about their work in the areas of advocacy, policy development, sector leadership and service provision;
• providing content for a web-based repository of international visual arts industry research papers, submissions, policy documents, codes of ethics and practice;
• assisting one another’s staff when travelling internationally to make contacts and have a base to work from;
• negotiating free/concession rate gallery access for artists travelling from one another’s countries; and
• determining interest in a conference which brings together a representative from each participant organisation, leading to the announcement of a more formal network.

Sixteen people responded to the D’Art request (listed in Appendix 2). In addition to supplying contact details for the relevant organisations, respondents were asked to supply a statement of purpose for all organisations. This report summarises the responses.

Contact details for visual arts organisations
Thirty-one visual arts and craft organisations were identified in the following sixteen countries:

• Australia
• Canada
• Chile
• Croatia
• Denmark
• Finland
• France
• Greece
• Ireland
• Israel
• New Zealand
• South Africa
• Spain
• Switzerland
• United Kingdom
• USA

Two international organisations were also identified:
• UNESCO Observatory on the Status of the Artist
• Culture.info

Appendix 1 contains contact details and descriptions of all the associations and organisations identified. This is by no means presented as an exhaustive international list. We therefore welcome suggestions for additions (email to info@ifacca.org). A summary analysis of the information contained in the list in appendix 1 is provided in the next section.

Analysis of the key areas of operation of the visual arts organisations
The table below summarises the types of activities that these organisations are involved in. The information has been taken from the websites of the organisations, and their responses to the D’Art question.

Of the visual arts organisations listed, eighty per cent are involved in advocacy and/or policy development. A third of all organisations listed below carry out research; a third are active in providing legal services; and a third have exhibitions and displays.

While most countries have provided details for just one national visual arts organisation, some have listed multiple entries. Often, these organisations cater to a different demographic – such as UKK Young Art Workers (Denmark), and some carry out a specialized role, such as the National Artists Equity Association (USA).

Comment: NAVA is the peak body representing and advancing the professional interests of the Australian visual arts and craft sector, including Indigenous artists and their art support organisations. NAVA has about 3,000 individual and organisational members and 1,000 student affiliates.

NAVA provides both advocacy and direct service to members through offering expert advice, representation, resources and a range of other services. Since its establishment in 1983, NAVA has been very influential in bringing about policy and legislative change to encourage the growth and development of the visual arts and craft sector and to increase professionalism within the industry.

Canadian Artists Representation/Le front des artistes canadiens (CARFAC) is incorporated federally as a non-profit corporation that is the national voice of Canada's professional visual artists. As a non-profit association and a National Art Service Organization, our mandate is to promote the visual arts in Canada, to promote a socio-economic climate that is conducive to the production of visual arts in Canada, and to conduct research and engage in public education for these purposes.

CARFAC was established by artists in 1968 and has been recognized by the Status of the Artist legislation. CARFAC is guided by an active Board, elected by the membership.

We believe that artists, like professionals in other fields, should be paid for their work and share equitably in profits from their work. As the national voice of Canada's professional visual artists, CARFAC defends artists' economic and legal rights and educates the public on fair dealing with artists. In doing so, CARFAC promotes a socio-economic climate conducive to the production of visual arts. CARFAC engages actively in advocacy, lobbying, research and public education on behalf of artists in Canada.

From the website: CARFAC-BC was incorporated in 1990 and functions as a volunteer, artist-run organization on behalf of its membership. It aspires to be the primary vehicle in BC through which visual and media artists may obtain information and practical advice to support their professional practices. There are now over 400 members in BC.

The primary goals of the organization are to:

* Assist BC visual artists to advance their professional status and economic potential;
* Provide informational services to assist in the development of the visual artist and the visual arts as a profession;
* Research, publish and otherwise provide educational information for the development of the visual arts profession and for the benefit of all Canadians interested in the visual arts;
* Advocate the role and value of the visual arts in BC and beyond;
* Assist and encourage members of the visual arts profession to make individual and group contributions to the growth and development of the visual arts in Canada.

From the website: CARFAC SASK was organized in 1983 by an amalgamation of two groups of artists centered around Regina and Saskatoon, who had met informally through the 1970's to address the concerns of artists. The day-to-day operations of CARFAC SASK are carried out from offices in Regina and Saskatoon.

CARFAC SASK's primary goals:

* Promote the well-being of practicing visual artists resident in Saskatchewan;
* Enhance the development of the visual arts as a profession;
* Represent artists for the advancement of their common interests;
* Assist artists in their negotiations with individuals and institutions.
CARFAC SASK programs and services:
* Advocacy and Representation
* Advisory services, including Legal and Financial advisors
* Advisory Notes, books for sale and information resources
* Resource Centers and libraries in both offices
* Professional Development & Special Interest Workshops

Co-Director: Kristian Clarke
Co-Director: Lesley Phimister
Membership Coordinator: Sara Kelly
Communications Coordinator: Adriana Alarcón

From the website: Artists established CARFAC Ontario in 1968. As founding spokesperson Jack Chambers said "we need no other go between to get our message across, both creatively as it concerns our work and socially as it concerns our livelihood."

CARFAC Ontario maintains an office in Toronto to administrate programs, to publish and deliver resources and to coordinate special projects. It functions as a professional body for artists, working to empower creators in all visual media so they share equitably in any profits issuing from their work.

CARFAC Ontario's position is that artists, like professionals in other fields, should be paid for their creative output and services. We inform artists of their economic and legal rights as we educate consumers of art to fair dealings with artists. Through our information services, lobbying and consultations we work to improve the status of visual artists in our society.

LEGAL STATUS. RAAV is the professional artist association that represents and collectively defends the interests of the visual artists of Quebec. To this end, it obtained the status of an “accredited” association from the Commission de reconnaissance des associations d'artistes et des associations de producteurs <http://www.mcc.gouv.qc.ca/orgasoc/orgaso02.htm> (CRAAAP) a public corporation and

MANDATE As specified in Act S-32.01, our mandate is to: ensure that the honour of the artistic profession and the freedom to practise such profession are upheld; promote favourable conditions for the creation and circulation of the artists’ works; defend and promote the economic, social, moral and professional interests of professional artists; represent professional artists in every instance where it is in the general interest that it should do so [Hélène Bernier] Artists from the craft sector are represented by the Conseil des métiers d’art du Québec ( <http://www.metiers-d-art.qc.ca/> ). Some artists from the craft sector also identify themselves as practicing in the visual arts field, so they may subscribe to the RAAV as well.

Asociacion de Pintores y Escultores de Chile
Translation from the website: Founded in 1940, the Association of Painters and Sculptors of Chile, APECH, had the sculptor Lorenzo Dominguez as its first president. APECH was created as an association of painters and sculptors to defend the rights of the visual artists, concentrating on laws that protect the creation and the distribution of Art. The Association also works with other art professionals such as critics and art historians. It currently has more than 700 distributing partners in the country. One of their projects was lobby for the introduction of art into public buildings and spaces.

The Association’s main objectives are:
- a) to unite Chile’s artists
- b) to stimulate and spread artistic creation
- c) to promote, develop and protect activities that are common to the plastic artists
- d) to develop professional ethics relating to artistic practice
- e) to promote the professionalism of the work of its members and to contribute to the knowledge and progress of the national visual arts.

Comments: The Croatian Association of Artists is a non-governmental, non-profit and non political occupational association whose members are visual artists of all generations of varied artistic expressions. The association was founded in 1868, and, under different names, it has been continuously active to the present day. The main goals and activities of the association are encouraging of the contemporary visual creative work, enhancement and protection of the freedom of visual creative activities, organisation of exhibitions, participating in preparation of the laws and regulations on visual creative works, protection of social rights of the artists. The Croatian Association of Artists organizes or participates in organization of about thirty exhibitions annually in four diversely profiled galleries, by which it covers almost all segments of artistic expression-from great national and international cultural and artistic events and exhibitions to new media projects close to experiments. The Association makes all efforts to have exhibitions accompanied by lectures, workshops or presentations of the projects. Gallery premises of the Association are open to all kinds of artistic activities, from dance and performances, to music and theatre.

Comments: ULUPUH – The Croatian Association of Artists of Applied Arts celebrated its 50th anniversary in 2000. The association, the members of which are renowned Croatian artists, is comprised of seventeen different sections: ceramics, graphic design, photography, industrial design, textile design, fashion design, theatre and film, jewellery design, architecture, horticulture, applied painting, caricature and animated films, as well as of the art critics, restoration and multimedia sections. The ULUPUH Gallery organises approximately twenty exhibitions of its members annually.

Every three years, ULUPUH organises the International Exhibition of Graphic Design and Visual Communications (ZGRAF), which exhibits works created in this area so closely related to everyday life. Since its foundation in 1975, ZGRAF has been promoting graphic design as an artistic intervention in urban space and its primary objective is to promote graphic design in accordance with the highest aesthetic principles by means of connecting design to art. The importance of ZGRAF lies in the contribution of the artist as an individual to international graphic design and communication achieved through art.

The second most important international exhibition is the World Triennale of Small Ceramics. Judging by the number of countries present at the exhibition, it is the largest exhibition of ceramics in the world. Ceramics is considered to be one of the most vital witnesses of the culture and life of a certain place and time.

In the year 2006, ULUPUH is organising the 40th Zagreb Salon - a triennial exhibition of applied arts in Croatia.

We collaborate with other countries in the areas of arts and culture, by means of exchanging suggestions, visiting exhibitions, lectures or performances and workshops in the field of applied arts.
The Cyprus Chamber of Fine Arts (E.KA.TE) was established in 1964. It operates as a non-profit making association whose long and historic social activity and contribution has given it a reputation as a very significant and useful non-governmental organization that represents Professional Visual Artists.

E.KA.TE is a member of the International Association of Art (IAA) and represents IAA in Cyprus. The primary aims of the Chamber are, to promote artistic creation in Cyprus, to preserve the right of free artistic expression and work in all the areas of fine arts, as well as protecting the rights of Cypriot artists. These aims are pursued and accomplished through the members coordinated efforts, group or individual exhibitions in Cyprus or overseas, contacts and participation in international conferences, exhibitions and artistic events, either as a Chamber on its own or in association with other intellectual and cultural organizations from Cyprus or abroad.

A nine member Executive Committee is in charge of the day to day administration of the Chamber of Fine Arts and its headquarters are based in Nicosia. Five of the members of this Committee are elected by the General Assembly, whereas the other four are appointed by Regional Assemblies taking place two weeks before the General Assembly, every three years.

The membership of E.KA.TE comes to some 400 artists from all over Cyprus with the new members accounting to around 40 each year. An artist can become a member of E.KA.TE either as a graduate of a Fine Arts Institution by presenting samples of his/her work, or if not a related-subject graduate, after their activity and creative work has been reviewed by a specially appointed committee. Non-Cypriot artists with permanent residence in Cyprus can also become members following the same procedure.

Country: Denmark

Billedkunstnernes Forbund was established as a fusion between several different organisations for visual artists, i.e., sculptors, painters, graphic designers etc.

Aim: To influence current policies in a way, that enhances economical and social security for visual artists. To enhance the use of - and respect for - visual art in as many ways as possible, and to protect artistic freedom in general.

Services - a few examples:
Billedkunstnernes Forbund offers its members legal advise in economic and social matters, practical help in transporting artwork to exhibitions (members can borrow a minibus in connection with exhibitions), exposure of artworks and individual contact-info at Billedkunstnernes Forbund’s website www.bkf.dk, use of a number of different artist-residencies inside and outside Denmark at very low costs, free access to many Danish museums and cultural institutions. Furthermore, Billedkunstnernes Forbund is continuously involved in political lobbying at both national and international levels and has on several occasions been successful in influencing legal grounds of cultural policies.

Number of members: Approximately 1200. Billedkunstnernes Forbund is the largest association for acknowledged visual artists in Denmark.
Entry qualifications: Billedkunstnernes Forbund has a detailed set of entry qualifications – to become a member you must be able to document a serious amount of acknowledged artistic activity, or you must have a graduate degree from an acknowledged artistic education/academy.

Comment: UKK, Young Art Workers, is an organization for younger artists and art workers in Denmark. The organization was formed in the summer of 2002, as an outcome of the protests against the newly elected ultra right wing government and its policies. Since gaining power in the November 2001 elections, the right wing government has targeted contemporary art among other areas in the Danish society such as environmental protection, education, immigration and human rights with economic cut backs and political restrictions. The cut backs directed at the arts sector particularly hit young and experimental art, as well as international exchanges and efforts. One of the reasons this was possible, even relatively easy, was due to the fact that no other organizations spoke on the behalf of those working in this field. As such, UKK was also formed in opposition to the existing artists associations and the royal artists guild and their conservative, elitist policies and agendas.

Ukk thus have a dual aim; at once directed outward towards the political field and the media, and inwards towards the organization and structure of the art world and its institutions. UKK aims for a more dynamic and open field for contemporary art, and is the only organization to include two groups of art workers, artists as well as critics/curators in an effort to bridge the traditional gap between practice and theory, between production and mediation. The organization focuses on the rights and working conditions of contemporary, younger art workers, with a delimitation of 15 years of professional life. As opposed to other organizations, membership in UKK shall be gained through purely nominal rather than aesthetic grounds: anyone working professionally within contemporary art shall be accepted in order to represent the field in its broadest, rather than narrowest, elitist sense. UKK also represents students at academies and universities.

Objectives
The organization will work towards the following goals:
* A more open and transparent structure in the Danish art system.
* The development of an art system that include experimental art, new media and international exchange.
* A broader and more enhanced debate on contemporary art and its placement, both on the art scene and in the general public sphere.
* More exhibitions of contemporary and experimental art in museums and public institutions.
* Equality between men and women in positions at institutions, as well as in collections and exhibitions in the institutions.
* Representation of UKK in public and ministerial committees and councils that pertains to contemporary art.
* The establishment of an Institute for Contemporary Art in Denmark, with equal focus on and funding for research, production and exhibition.
* The establishment of fixed rates and minimum wages for artists exhibiting at institutions and for freelance curators working for institutions.
* A larger and fairer representation of contemporary art in mass media.
* The establishment of an unemployment fund and rate for artists.

Comment: Visual Artists Ireland is an all Ireland body for professional visual artists. It provides services, facilities and resources for artists, initiates artistic projects and publications and acts as an advocate on behalf of individual artists. The organisation was established in 1980 and has a current membership of over 1,200 artists.

Visual Artists Ireland is an advocate for the interests of individual artists, the visual arts sector and the arts in general.

Visual Artists Ireland has a mandate to represent artists through its membership of professional artists. Visual Artists Ireland has the largest membership of creative artists in Ireland.

The main programme of advocacy is focussed on the larger issues, which affect the overall status of artists in Ireland. However, Visual Artists Ireland also reacts and responds to artists’ individual requests for support or intervention on specific issues, for example a dispute over commission procedures or a contract.

The organisations advocacy programme covers a range of issues both in the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland. It also takes an active interest in artistic and cultural policy issues at a wider international and European level.

Comment: The professional association for visual artists visarte consists of 18 regional groups, one interest group (gender issues) and a total of 2600 active members. visarte came into being on January 1st, 2001. It represents a thoroughly revamped version of the original visual arts association dating back to 1806 and since renamed GSMB/SPSAS (Association of Swiss Painters, Sculptors and Architects), which it thus replaces. In its role as a professional association, visarte defends the interests of artists and offers them a wide range of practical benefits geared to their professional problems and social welfare concerns. In addition, as a prominent cultural organization, visarte is actively involved in cultural policy issues at the national, cantonal and local levels, contributing in ongoing fashion to the cultural and artistic developments of the day. Another major facet of its activities is to foster contacts, to ensure the exchange of information and experience between artists in Switzerland and abroad.

Comment from website: The mission of CERF is to strengthen and sustain the careers of craft artists across the United States. CERF is a non-profit, tax-exempt organization and is the only one of its kind in the United States.

CERF accomplishes its mission through direct financial and educational assistance to craft artists, including emergency relief assistance, business development support, and resources and referrals on topics such as health, safety, and insurance. CERF also advocates, engages in research, and backs policy that supports craft artists’ careers.

Emergency Relief & Recovery

CERF’s emergency relief programs provide assistance to help sustain a craft artist’s career when an emergency occurs. CERF is:

* A bridge before more significant assistance, such as insurance payments, are made available
* A connection and guide to other sources for support
* A charitable response by a community for its community
* A first responder for professional craft artists

Emergency Readiness

CERF provides training, information, and resources to help craft artists prevent emergencies and to protect themselves and their businesses when emergencies occur. CERF is:

* A clearinghouse for risk management information and services
* A consultant on risk management to craft artists and to organizations serving craft artists

Professional Development

While CERF’s primary focus is on emergency relief and emergency prevention and protection, CERF also works to advance craft artists’ careers. CERF is:

* An information clearinghouse/internet portal for business training and development

Advocacy, Research & Policy
CERF promotes and advances issues related to emergency relief response, preparedness, and prevention for craft artists within the cultural, business, insurance, and human services sectors. Beyond its direct services to craft artists, CERF actively engages in documentation, analysis, and information dissemination about the status and needs of craft artists to public and private decision-makers at the state, regional, and national levels. CERF is:

- A recognized specialist in delivery of emergency aid to artists
- A leader in national efforts to coordinate emergency relief to all artists
- A producer/distributor of research and policy studies
- An advocate to stakeholders in the cultural, financial, and educational sectors to expand the support infrastructure for craft artists

UNESCO observatory on the status of the artist
In the framework of the Recommendation concerning the Status of the artist, this Observatory has been created to gather all the information sent by UNESCO Member States and NGOs concerning key aspects of the life and work of artists, such as:

- Social Benefits and Taxes
- Allowances and Fellowships
- Networks and Partners
- Copyright and Neighbouring Rights

The activities implemented under the Recommendation concerning the Status of the Artist are considered in the framework of UNESCO normative instruments in the field of culture.

Comment: www.culture.info aims to become the “first step to cultural information” across the world. In 10 months, Culture.Info has grown from 3,000 to 27,000 users per month (with over 60% outside the UK) and they have a number of developments and expansions in the pipeline for 2007 which should result in the achievement of 100,000 users per month from across the world by the end of the year.

The aim of Culture.Info is to be the first port-of-call for users seeking cultural information on a particular topic. Each Culture.Info sub-portal will provide a carefully researched set of listings of links to information that is more focused and useful than can usually be obtained from the vast majority of existing listings or search engines.

National Visual Arts and Craft Sector Associations

From: National Association for the Visual Arts (NAVA), Australia
Contact: Merrilee Kessler, Projects Manager
Email: Merrilee@visualarts.net.au
URL: www.visualarts.net.au

CONTEXT
The National Association for the Visual Arts (NAVA) is the peak body representing and advancing the professional interests of the Australian visual arts and craft sector. NAVA undertakes advocacy and lobbying, research, policy and project development, data collection and analysis. It also provides expert advice, resources, professional representation and development and a range of other services.

It is a not for profit membership organisation whose members are primarily visual artists and craftspeople. Organisations in the visual arts and craft and other interested parties are also members.

NAVA has asked IFACCA’s network to assist in locating organisations similar to NAVA in other countries, ie: non-government organisations with a focus on policy development (eg taxation, copyright, government priorities and programs) and service provision (eg information, advice, research and publication of ‘best practice’ manuals) for visual artists and craftspeople and the industries they operate in. NAVA believes there would be real value in generating opportunities for dialogue with its sister organisations around the world, for the same reasons this type of international sharing is valuable for the members of IFACCA.

WHAT TO DO:
* If you can assist with the questions over the page, please return your answers to Merrilee at the email address above or by fax to +612 9358 6909, and copy to IFACCA at c.madden@ifacca.org.
* The deadline for responses is 15 December 2006.
* If you require more information, please do not hesitate to email Merrilee.
* If you think someone else should respond, please forward this query to them.
QUESTIONS
At this stage we would like to know:

1) Is there an organisation similar to NAVA in your country? ☑Yes ☑No

2) If yes, please supply as much of the following information as possible
